JUST PUBLISHED,

And to be ſold at the Printing-Office in Elliott-ſtreet,

A new CATECHISM for CHILDREN.

The following is the printed Paper referred to in our laſt, directed "To the betrayed Inhabitants of the City and Colony of New-York," viz.

"My dear fellow Citizens and Countrymen,

"IN a day when the minions of tyranny and deſpotiſm in the mother country and the colonies, are indefatigable in laying every ſnare that their malevolent and corrupt hearts can ſuggeſt, to enſlave a free people; when this unfortunate country has been ſtriving under many diſadvantages for three years paſt, to preſerve their freedom, which to an Engliſhman is as dear as his life; when the merchants of this city and the capital towns on the continent, have nobly and chearfully ſacrificed their private intereſt to the public good, rather than to promote the deſigns of the enemies of our happy conſtitution: It might juſtly be expected, that in this day of conſtitutional light, the repreſentatives of this colony would not be ſo hardy, nor be ſo loſt to all ſenſe of duty to their conſtituents (eſpecially after the laudable example of the colonies of Maſſachuſetts-Bay and South-Carolina before them) as to betray the truſt committed to them. This they have done in paſſing the vote to give the troops a thouſand pounds, out of any monies that may be in the treaſury, and another thouſand out of the money that may be iſſued, to be put out on loan, which the colony will be obliged to make good, whether the bill for that purpoſe does or does not obtain the royal aſſent; and that they have betrayed the liberties of the people, will appear from the following conſideration, to wit: That the miniſtry are waiting to ſee whether the colonies under their diſtreſſed circumſtances, will divide on any of the grand points which they are united in, and contending for, with the mother country; by which they may carry their deſigns againſt the colonies, and keep in adminiſtration. For if this ſhould not take place, the acts muſt be repealed; which will be a reflection on their conduct, and will bring the reproach and clamour of the nation on them for the loſs of trade to the empire, which their malconduct has occaſioned.

"Our granting money to the troops, is implicitly acknowledging the authority that enacted the revenue act, and their being obligatory on us, as theſe acts were enacted for the expreſs purpoſe of taking money out of our pockets without our conſent; and to provide for the defending and ſupport of government in America; which revenue we ſay, by our grant of money, is not ſufficient for the purpoſe aforeſaid; therefore we ſupply the deficiency.

"Thus was the point of view in which theſe acts were conſidered, by the Maſſachuſetts and South-Carolina aſſemblies, and to prevent that dangerous conſtruction, refuſe it. On this important point we have differed with theſe ſpirited colonies, and do implicitly approve of all the tyrannical conduct of the miniſtry to the Boſtonians, and by implication cenſure their laudable and patriotic denial. For if they did right (which every ſenſible American thinks they did) in refuſing to pay the billeting money, ſurely we have done wrong in giving it. But our aſſembly ſays, they do their duty, in granting the money to the troops: Conſequently the Maſſachuſetts aſſembly did not do theirs, in not obeying the miniſterial mandate. If this is not a diviſion in this grand point, I know not what is: And I doubt not but the miniſtry will let us know it is to our coſt; for it will furniſh them with arguments and freſh courage. Is this a grateful retaliation to that brave and ſenſible people, for the ſpirited and early notice they took of the ſuſpending act? No, it is baſe ingratitude, and betraying the common cauſe of liberty.

"To what other influence than the deſerting the American cauſe, can the miniſtry attribute ſo puſillanimous a conduct as this of the aſſembly; ſo repugnant and ſubvertive of all the means we have uſed, and oppoſition that has been made by this and the other colonies, to the tyrannical conduct of the Britiſh parliament? to no other. Can there be a more ridiculous farce to impoſe on the people, than for the aſſembly to vote their thanks to be given to the merchants, for entering into an agreement not to import goods from Britain until the revenue acts ſhould be repealed, while they at the ſame time counteract it by countenancing Britiſh acts, and complying with miniſterial requiſitions, incompatible with our freedom? Surely they cannot.

"And what makes the aſſembly's granting this money the more grievous, is, that it goes to the ſupport of troops kept here not to protect but to enſlave us: Has not the truth of this remark been lately exemplified in the audacious, domineering, and inhuman Major Pullaine, who ordered a guard to protect a ſordid miſcreant, that tranſgreſſed the laudable non-importation agreement of the merchants, in order to break that, which is the only means left them, under God, to baffle the deſigns of their enemies to enſlave this continent? This conſideration alone ought to be ſufficient to induce a free people, not to grant the troops any ſupply whatſoever, if we had no diſpute with the mother country that made it neceſſary not to concede any thing that might deſtroy our freedom; reaſons of œconomy and good policy, ſuggeſt, that we ought not to grant the troops money.

"Whoever is the leaſt acquainted with the Engliſh hiſtory muſt know, that grants frequently made to the crown, is not to be refuſed, but with ſome degree of danger of diſturbing the repoſe of the kingdom or colony. This evinces the expediency of our ſtopping theſe grants now, while we are embroiled with the mother country, ſo that we may not, after the grand controverſy is ſettled, have a new bone of contention about the billeting money; which muſt be the caſe if we do not put an end to it at this time: For the colony, in its impoveriſhed ſtate, cannot ſupport a charge which amounts to near as much, per annum, as all the other expences of the government beſides.

"Hence it follows, that the aſſembly have not been attentive to the liberties of the continent, nor to the property of the good people of this colony in particular, we muſt therefore attribute this ſacrifice of the public intereſt, to ſome corrupt ſource. This is very manifeſt in the guilt and confuſion that covered the faces of the perfidious abettors of this meaſure, when the Houſe was in debate on the ſubject. Mr. Colden knows, from the nature of things, that he cannot have the leaſt proſpect to be in adminiſtration again; and therefore, that he may make hay while the ſun ſhines, and get a full ſalary from the aſſembly, flatters the ignorant members of it, with the conſideration of the ſucceſs of a bill to emit paper currency; when he, and his artful coadjutors muſt know, that it is only a ſnare to impoſe on the ſimple; for it will not obtain the royal aſſent. But while he is ſollicitous to obtain his falary, he muft attend to his poſterity, and as ſome of his children hold offices under the government, if he did not preſerve an obedience to its requiſitions, or do his duty, in caſe the aſſembly refuſed the billeting money, by diſſolving them, his children might be in danger of loſing their offices. If he diſſolved the aſſembly they would not give him his ſalary.

"The De Lancey family knowing the aſcendency they have in the preſent Houſe of Aſſembly, and how uſeful that influence will be to their ambitious deſigns to manage a new governor, have left no ſtone unturned to prevent a diſſolution. The Aſſembly, conſcious to themſelves, of having tramp'd on the liberties of the people, and fearing their juſt reſentments on ſuch an event, are equally careful to preſerve their ſeats, expecting that if they can do it at this critical juncture, as it is imagined the grand controverſy will be ſettled this winter, they will ſerve for ſeven years; in which time they hope the people will forget the preſent injuſtice done to them. To ſecure theſe ſeveral objects, the De Lancey family, like true politicians, although they were to all appearance at mortal odds with Mr. Colden, and repreſented him in all companies, as an enemy to his country; yet a coalition is now formed, in order to ſecure to them the ſovereign lordſhip of this colony. The effect of which has given birth to the abominable vote, by which the liberties of the people are betrayed. In ſhort, they have brought matters to ſuch a paſs, that all the checks reſulting from the form of our happy conſtitution, are deſtroyed. The Aſſembly might as well invite the Council, to ſave the trouble of formalities, to take their ſeats in the Houſe of Aſſembly, and place the Lieutenant-Governor in the Speaker's chair, and then there would be no waſte of time in going from houſe to houſe, and his Honour would have the pleaſure to ſee how zealous his former enemies are in promoting his intereſt, to ſerve themſelves. Is this a ſtate to be reſted in, when our all is at a ſtake? No my countrymen, rouſe! imitate the noble example of the friends of liberty in England, who rather than be enſlaved, contend for their right with K---g, Lords, and Commons. And will you ſuffer your liberties to be torn from you by your Repreſentatives? Tell it not in Boſton; publiſh it not in the ſtreets of Charles-Town! You have means yet left to preſerve a unanimity with the brave Boſtonians and Carolinians; and to prevent the accompliſhment of the deſigns of tyrants. The Houſe was ſo nearly divided on the ſubject of granting the money in the way the vote paſſed, that one would have prevented it; you have therefore a reſpectable minority. What I would adviſe to be done, is, to aſſemble in the fields, on Monday next, where your ſenſe ought to be taken upon this important point; notwithſtanding the impudence of Mr. Jauncey, in his declaring in the Houſe, that he had conſulted his conſtituents and that they were for giving money. After this is done, go in a body to your member, and inſiſt on their joining with the minority to oppoſe the bill; if they dare refuſe your juſt requiſition, appoint a committee to draw up a ſtate of the whole matter, and ſend it to the Speakers of the Houſes of Aſſembly on the continent, and to the friends of our cauſe in England, and publiſh it in the newſpapers, that the whole world may know your ſentiments on this matter, in the only way your circumſtance will admit: And I am confident it will ſpirit the friends of our cauſe, and chagrin our enemies. Let the notification to call the people, be ſo expreſſed, that whoever abſents himſelf, will be conſidered as agreeing to what may be done by ſuch as ſhall meet; and that you may ſucceed, is the unfeigned deſire of A Son of Liberty."

BOSTON, DECEMBER 28.

THE following was handed about yeſterday, "The merchants and all others who are any ways concerned in, or connected with, trade, are deſired to meet at the Repreſentative's Chamber to-morrow, being Thurſday the 28th inſtant, at nine o'clock before noon, to receive the report of the Committee of Inſpection, relative to the conduct of three conſiderable merchants of this town, who in direct violation of their ſolemn engagement to the contrary, have diſpoſed of part of their goods that were ſtored; and alſo to conſider and determine upon ſome SPIRITED, LEGAL and DECISIVE meaſures, to prevent the non-importation agreement being rendered abortive, by the machinations of ſome few who have determined, notwithſtanding they have agreed to keep their goods till a general importation takes place, to open and diſpoſe of the ſame the beginning of January next. As theſe are matters of the greateſt importance, and the credit and reputation of the trade will greatly depend upon what may be done at this critical conjuncture, it is deſired there may be a general attendance."

At a Meeting of the Merchants, December 28, 1769.

Whereas two or three perſons who acceeded to the agreement of the merchants, and did actually ſtore their goods, to remain until a general importation ſhould take place, have lately declared that they are determined to ſell their goods ſo ſtored the firſt day of January 1770. And whereas ſuch a meaſure, if carried into execution, would be baſe and perfidious, and manifeſt a ſettled intention of the perpetrators to do what lies in their power to render abortive the agreement of the merchants, to prevent the ſalutary effects expected therefrom, and to entail ruin upon this province and continent: Therefore, in order to prevent theſe fatal conſequences as much as in us lies:

Voted, That in caſe any perſons who have ſtored their goods, ſhould preſume, notwithſtanding their engagements to the contrary, to diſpoſe of them before a general importation takes place, they will, by ſo doing, be guilty of a great breach of faith, and will not only be unworthy of the future confidence and favour of the public, but muſt expect to incur their juſt reſentment, by being thoroughly deſpiſed and neglected.

Voted, That we will not buy of, or have the leaſt intercourſe with, any perſons who ſhall prove themſelves by ſuch behaviour, to be loſt to all ſenſe of public ſpirit, or even common humanity, and to be ſo infamouſly ſelfiſh, that rather than not enrich themſelves, they will endeavour to effect it by taking the advantage of the diſtreſs of their country, and the generous ſelf-denial of their fellow citizens for the common good.

Voted, That the names of ſuch perſons ſhall be publiſhed conſtantly in the news-papers, and alſo in hand-bills diſperſed through the province, that the public may know them.

Voted, That the committee of inſpection be directed to inſpect all ſuch goods as are or may be ſtored until a general importation takes place, at leaſt once a week; and upon diſcovering that any perſon has ſold or removed his goods ſo circumſtanced, they are directed to call a meeting of the merchants and all others concerned in, connected with, or that for their ſubſiſtance depend upon trade, by a notification ſetting forth the names of the perſons ſo offending, and it is left to the diſcretion of the committee to fix upon ſuch a place for the meeting as they may judge capacious enough to accommodate ſuch a number as, it is probable, may be convened upon ſuch an intereſting occaſion.

JANUARY 2. On the 24th inſtant, being Lord's Day Morning, departed this Life, Mrs. MARY LORING, the aged and virtuous Conſort of the venerable Mr. ISAAC LORING, Paſtor of the Weſt Church in Sudbury, in her 83th Year, ſince laſt June, and was about two Months younger than her ſurviving huſband, having lived together above 63 Years.---There were a few Things to be obſerved concerning her; for 45 Years paſt ſhe eat but one Meal in 24 Hours, and that was ordinarily only a little Bread and Cheeſe at Night, a little before ſhe went to Bed, yet her Health was ſuch that ſhe was at the Head of her Family Affairs and Buſineſs till about ten Days before her Death. Reſpecting her Offspring, a Child of her Great-Grand Daughter was baptiſed by its Great Great-Grand Father the Sabbath that ſhe lay dead, and it was called after her Name.

We learn that the French Prieſt mentioned ſome Time ago, to be at Halifax, with 200 l. per ann. was in the room of one that died ſome Years ago; and the Indians of the St. John's Tribe being deſirous of one of that Profeſſion, applied to Government, and they have granted them a Popiſh Prieſt, with the Salary of 100 l. a Year.

Letters from Halifax mention that Mr. Meiſt the Printer was arrived in one of the King's Schooners; that tho' he raiſed a conſiderable Dirt in Boſton, nothing certain has tranſpired about it. He ſays he ſhall return to Boſton again in a few Days; but the Captain who brought him ſays he came there to get a Paſſage for England. He certainly looks as if he had loſt Deal.

JANUARY 8. The number of veſſels belonging to Marblehead, which have been loſt ſince January 1768, are as follows, viz. 3 fiſhing ſchooners in 1768; 23 ditto in the ſpring 1769; 3 ditto the laſt fall; 4 fall of merchantmen; in all 23 ſail, and all the men belonging to them, amounting to 160 whites, and two negroes, beſides ſome ſtrangers belonging to the merchantmen, of whom no account has been kept, were loſt. The number of widows left by theſe men were 70 with 155 children. The value of the intereſt loſt is eſtimated at 14128*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.* lawful money.

"THE Committee of merchants in this town having by laſt night's poſt received a letter from the committee of merchants of New-York, wherein it is ſuggeſted that I the ſubſcriber, with others, have imported goods from Great-Britain, contrary to the agreement of the merchants, to which I acceeded. This is once for all to certify whom it may concern, That I have not in one ſingle inſtance, directly or indirectly, deviated from the ſaid agreement; and I now publicly defy all mankind to prove to the contrary; and I am determined to co-operate with the merchants and others, in every legal and laudable meaſure for the redreſs of the grievances under which this province and continent have ſo long laboured. John Hancock."

Extract of a Letter from London, by the laſt Packet.

"Hollis is as indefatigable as his ſoul is boundleſs!"

"An Immediate proſecution, if practicable, is to be commenced again Sir John Bernard! The great Serjeant Glynn has given his opinion, which is tranſmitted, and by this time, or nearly, I preſume you have it!"

WILLIAMSBURGH, (Virginia) DECEMBER 14.

Laſt night there was a ball and elegant entertainment at the Capitol, given by the gentlemen of the honourable the houſe of Burgeſſes, to his Excellency the Governor, his Majeſty's Council, and the gentlemen and ladies of this city, who were chiefly dreſſed in Virginia cloth, and made a genteel appearance. The Capitol was illuminated upon the occaſion.

On monday the 20th ult. an addreſs was reſolved on by the Houſe of Burgeſſes, to requeſt his Excellency the Governor, to uſe his kind offices with his Majeſty to iſſue his Royal proclamation for permitting Copper money to be brought in, and paſs in this colony, which was accordingly preſented; and his Excellency was pleaſed to anſwer, that he would write to England by the firſt opportunity, and uſe all his intereſt to obtain what the Houſe deſired.

BASSETERRE, (St. Chriſtophers) DECEMBER 24.

Some days ago the Ship Margaret and Rebecca, Capt. Lander, from London, arrived at Antigua; by which veſſel came his moſt gracious Majeſty's donation of a thouſand pounds ſterling, to be diſtributed among the unhappy ſufferers by the late fire on the 17th of Auguſt laſt.

DECEMBER 27. The following is an extract of a letter from Tobago---"Tobago is ſettling with a rapidity little expected, or ſcarce to be thought of. Its ſituation ſo near, and in ſome parts being in ſight of, the Spaniſh Main, makes it the maſter key to all the Spaniſh Main, and in caſe of a rupture with that nation, it muſt be an object of vaſt importance, in the eye of the Britiſh miniſtry, the rendezvous of our navy in theſe ſeas, and the iſland in theſe ſeas too, where private property will be moſt ſecure."
